

Dear President Hogan,

On behalf of the Asian American student body here at the University, and the Pan-Asian Council of Asian-American Student Leaders, we'd like to invite you to a luncheon/dinner and meeting with our student leaders at the Asian American Cultural Center.

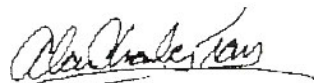

We would appreciate your presence at the Asian American Cultural Center for several reasons. First of all, we'd like to introduce ourselves and our student body to you to help you gain an understanding of one of the major constituent communities here at the University of Connecticut. We'd also like to continue to have a good working relationship with the University's administration, and therefore, we feel that having the opportunity to have the student leaders of our community meet with you would be most beneficial to continuing this relationship. Finally, with the Asian American community on campus, students and faculty alike, continuing to grow – we'd like to discuss with you how the University plans to continue to support the diverse community that makes up our great University.

The Pan-Asian Council is a cabinet of the Asian American student leaders at the University of Connecticut. Each executive board of organized Asian American student organizations on campus sends a representative to this cabinet, along with the Graduate Assistant of the Asian American Cultural Center, who facilitates the group. This group helps to form the Asian American Cultural Center's vision of "Many Cultures, One Community."

We would greatly appreciate you taking the time to meet with us and members of our executive boards, and look forward to continuing the excellent working relationship we had with the previous University administration.

If you can give us a couple of dates and times that you are willing to meet with the students associated with the Asian American community, it would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

Alan Tan
